

VR Management Peer Groups Connecting Professionals in the VR industry

VR Management Peer Groups

VR Management Peer Groups are designed for experienced managers who want to learn from others in the vacation rental industry. All peer groups are facilitated in a safe, non-competitive environment with focused discussions on relevant management issues and business challenges.

Peer groups can be a powerful process for innovation allowing you to be totally open about issues, opportunities and challenges you face. Joining a Peer Group provides opportunities for you to explore solutions to everyday problems and business challenges without the emotional connection that often gets in the way of decision making.

Participants are placed in a Peer Group based on their level in the organization, scope of responsibility and area of expertise. This provides you with the opportunity to discuss industry trends, business models and departmental challenges with others who share similar experiences.

VR Management Peer Groups Include:

- * 12- Monthly group conference calls with peers facilitated by the KLS Group (90 Minutes)
- * 12—Monthly one to one individual or team coaching (60 Minutes)
- * Management tips and tools, worksheets, and other timely resources

Join a VR Management Peer Group Now and Start:

- * Sharing experiences with others working in different geographical areas
- * Learning from others successes so you don't have to reinvent the wheel
- * Valuing "Ah-ha" moments when new ideas are shared that you can implement
- * Tapping into a sounding board when dealing with difficult and perplexing situations
- * Solving business challenges drawing from others diverse perspectives

About KLS Group

Today's business landscape is complex. Companies rely on KLS Group for all of their human resource needs, from consulting to training to recruitment. Based in Bend, Oregon, KLS Group serves businesses large and small throughout the US.

The KLS Group, keeping life simple. Please visit us at www.theclsapproach.com

About Sue Jones

Sue Jones, founder and managing director of KLS Group, is an innovative HR leader experienced with both large and smaller businesses. She has worked in many different industries and is adept with transferring her knowledge, skills and abilities across business channels. Sue is a Veteran of the US Navy, holds a Master's Degree in Business Administration from Northeastern University and is both SHRM-SCP and SPHR certified.

Scan the QR Code to Request More Information

